Dear Ms. Kermick,

My name is Sean King in the office of former U.S. Senator Alfonse D'Amato of New York. Park Strategies, LLC and I are registered with the U.S. Department of Justice, under the Foreign Agents Registration Act, as agents on behalf of our client, the Taipei Economic and Cultural Representative Office (TECRO) in the United States. I know how pleased Taiwan officials were in March of this year, when Senator Risch signed Senator Inhofe's and Johnson's joint letter to President Obama in honor of the 30th anniversary of the Taiwan Relations Act.

As per attached, there's an inbound Taiwan Agricultural Trade Goodwill Mission that will soon visit eight states (including Idaho). To kick it off, there will be a Letter of Intent (LOI) signing ceremony with U.S. grain exporters next Thursday, September 24th Thursday, at 10am, at the North Congressional Meeting Room [right next to the Atrium (please note the change of location from the attached invitation)] of the new U.S. Capitol Visitor Center in Washington, D.C. Representatives Boozman (AK), Bordallo (GU), Burton (IN), Foster (AK), Moore (WI), Peterson (MN), and Tiahrt (KS), as well as Senator Chuck Grassley (IA), are already confirmed to attend. Might Senator Risch be able to stop by the LOI signing? Given Senator Risch's past support of Taiwan, as well as the fact that the mission will visit Idaho, it would mean a lot to have him there. We'd greatly appreciate any consideration Senator Risch might give this event, thanks in advance.

Sean King

The Agricultural Trade Goodwill Mission, 2009

Background Information

1. Taiwan is the 7th largest export market for US agricultural products, importing a huge amount every year. Taiwan purchased a total of US$3.5 billion worth of agricultural products from the US last year alone. Since 1998, an Agricultural Trade Goodwill Mission has traveled to the US to place orders, usually every two years. In 1998, 2000, 2002, 2003, 2005 and 2007, the government invited leading businesses from Taiwan's grain industry to go with the mission to meet agricultural and trade policymakers in the US federal government, as well as members of Congress. The mission also visited agricultural states in the Midwest, and signed letters of intent with US associations and bulk commodity suppliers. During the 2007 visit, for instance, the mission signed a letter of intent to purchase products such as grains and meat worth US$4 billion over two years (2008-2009).
2. This is the seventh year that Taiwan will send an agricultural mission to the US. The mission will travel from September 21 to October 4, which coincides with the grain harvest season and when congress is in session. From September 22 to 24, the mission will visit Washington, DC to attend a ceremony for the signing of a letter of intent on Capitol Hill, to meet with members of congress and to visit other federal agencies. The mission will later split into two delegations: the Soybean and Corn Delegation will visit Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, and Missouri, while the Wheat Delegation will travel to Kansas, North Dakota, Montana and California.
3. The Agricultural Trade Goodwill Mission 2009 consists of 22 members, 14 in the Soybean and Corn Delegation and 8 in the Wheat Delegation. Members include representatives from the Taiwan Vegetable Oil Manufacturers Association, the Taiwan Feed Industry Association and the Taiwan Flour Mills Association, as well as personnel from the Taiwan offices of the US Grains Council, the US Soybean Export Council and the US Wheat Associates. The Mission will be led by Mr. Paul Ming-hsien Sun, Chairperson of the Board of AVRDC - The World Vegetable Center and former minister of the Council of Agriculture. It is expected that the delegations will conclude a letter of intent for 2010-2011 with a value of approximately US$3.5 billion.
